Brandt, Lyons to Fill Vacant Senate Seats

Lizbeth Lyons and Ken Brandt have been appointed by Tom Bangasser, ASSU president, to fill the two vacant spots in the senate ranks.

Liz, a junior, will replace Sen. Ann McKinstry, who transferred to the U. of W. Brandt, a sophomore, will fill the position left vacant when Sen. Russ Niles entered the Jesuit novitiate at Sheridan, Ore.

THE TWO appointments will be introduced for approval at the senate meeting at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Chieftain conference room.

Twelve applicants filed for the two positions, according to Bangasser.

Another appointment which will be considered by the senators is the appointment of Mike McBride as ASSU election board coordinator. He succeeds Buzz Furseth who recently resigned.

Also dealing with the election board is an amendment to the election code making it necessary for a candidate to have written consent of his endorsers only if there is a "reasonable doubt as to the validity" of the endorsement. The present law states that written consent must be obtained before distribution.

THE APPOINTMENTS of Mike Manning as chief justice of the judicial board and Bill Kononen as sophomore class president will also be up for senate approval. Kononen moves up from the vice president spot.

The lawmakers will attempt to straighten out the special events bill in order to solve the technical problems and inconsistencies which now exist. An amendment stating that all previous legislation is superseded by the new bill should solve the puzzle.

More positive action on a by-law concerning the impeachment procedure will also be taken. The senators just discussed the lengthy bill last week and then returned it to committee.

A NUMBER of amendments to the proposed bill will be introduced Sunday by its author, Sen. Chuck Taylor.

Also on the agenda are resolutions asking for reappraisal of the Spirits' control on seats at basketball games and inquiring about the possibility of a pep band for the 1965-66 school year.

The final bill seeks to set the time of the senate meetings at 7 p.m. on Sundays. There has been talk about switching the time of the meeting to either Saturday or Monday.

Veep Spot Open For Soph Class

Applications for the position of sophomore vice president now are being accepted in the ASSU office.

The position was vacated because previously elected Mike Warme left to enter the Jesuit novitiate at Sheridan, Ore. Selection will be made by Bill Kononen, sophomore class president, and Jenney Buck, sophomore secretary-treasurer.

The ASSU office also is receiving applications for co-chairmanships of the Soph-Frosh Dance scheduled Nov. 10. Kononen and Penny will select one girl and one boy from each of the two classes.

Deadline for both applications is Oct. 14.

Raiders Schedule First Field Trip

The Raiders, S.U.'s ROTC counter-insurgency organization, plans its first field problem of the year this weekend. The group will leave for Ft. Lewis at 4 p.m. today and return at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The field trip includes experience in day and night patrolling, security and assembly area operations. New members will also encounter the problem of adjusting to living under field conditions.

Problems to Be Aired in Open Air

The ninth annual ASSU Leadership Conference will be Oct. 22-24 at Camp Waskowitz near North Bend, Wash.

Invitations have been sent to all ASSU officers, judicial board members, active club presidents and other campus leaders, according to Joe Desimone, conference chairman.

Harold Shefelman, U.W. board of regents chairman, King County Municipal League president and former U.W. Law School dean, will be the guest speaker.

THIS CONFERENCE provides student leaders with an opportunity to air problems of student government and campus life and exchange ideas on how to aid student organizations to function more effectively.

Freshman delegates to the ASSU leadership conference will be chosen next week. Any freshmen interested in attending the conference should sign up for an interview by 3 p.m. today in the ASSU office.

FRESHMEN WILL be chosen to attend the conference on the basis of interviews which will Entries may be submitted in the mail room addressed to Fragments, English Department.

from professional Russian folk dancers and has appeared with his group as the guest of various Seattle shows and festivals.

The troupe he hopes to organize at S.U. will consist of 15 male students—five performers and 10 reserves. Their style will be the Gopak, a series of strenuous kicks and jumps. Costumes will be custom-made and boots will be ordered direct from Russia.

Majors says interested students should be of average height, build and coordination.

HE ALSO needs the accompaniment of an accordion, balalaika (a three-string guitar) or another similar instrument.

Practice will be two times a week for several hours. Detailed information or demonstrations may be arranged by calling Majors at EA 5-4893.

Insight and Sound

Lost Weekend?

Another ASSU leadership conference will soon be at hand. Invitations have been sent out and plans are being made for the gathering of 110 student leaders at Camp Waskowitz near North Bend, Wash., on the weekend of Oct. 22-24.

SOME STUDENTS are looking forward to this "weekend in the woods." Others, including some of those who have attended these conferences in the past, hardly relish the thought of parting with $9 and two and one-half days which might be spent in more useful pursuits.

The idea of a leadership conference is not a bad one. It is good to get away and to sit down and analyze S.U.'s student programs to find out what's wrong with them and how they can be improved.

What makes a good leadership conference is not what it is visualized as, but what it turns out to be. People with ideas make a good leadership conference.

JUST AS the people who are in charge have started making plans, so should those who have been invited to attend start deciding what criticisms and suggestions they will make.

Too much money and time is at stake for this year's conference to go without tangible results.

Since Tuesday's opening night for the Seattle Symphony fell on Yom Kippur, many season tickets were going unused. The campus received word that all unsold seats could be purchased for $2. The crowd of S.U. students that came found themselves in the box seats of the opera house.

Students can have cut-rate prices on just about every entertainment event in Seattle. How many young theatre enthusiasts know about the Seattle Repertory Theatre's "Student Last-Minute Club"? Unsold $3, $4 and $5 tickets are available at the box office 10 minutes before curtain for $1.50.

Throughout the year this column will supply a calendar of "events of more than routine interest" (cf. New Yorker, "Goings-on About Town"), an off-beat guide to the city and notice of every price reduction the Special Events Committee can inveigle from the booking agencies.

In town this week-end:
THE THEATRE
Center Stage: "Mary Mary" by Jean Kerr. Local cast from Bellevue Playbarn. 8:30 p.m., Thursday-Saturday. Reservations well in advance. SH 7-1550. Crossroads Shopping Center, Bellevue.

Cirque Playhouse: "Harold" by Herman Raucher. Comedy runs till Nov. 6. 8:30 p.m., Wednesday-Saturday. College prices with student body cards: $1.25, Wednesday-Thursday; $1.75, Friday-Saturday.

Piccoli Theater: Samuel Taylor's "The Happy Time." 8:30 p.m., Thursday-Saturday. Runs through Oct. 16. Students, $1.25.

THE CINEMA
Orpheum: Melina Mercouri in "Topkapi" and "Never on Sunday."

Varsity: "Nobody Waved Good-bye." Made in Toronto. Experimental realism in photography.

Ridgmont: French drama, "Taxi for Tobruk."
U. W. Autumn Film Festival. All eight Federico Fellini movies. Starts Oct. 19. Series tickets, $4 for students.

MUSIC
"The 3 D's" sing blues, folk and semi-classical and pop on campus, 8 p.m., Saturday, Pigott Auditorium.

Chamber music concerts, 3 p.m. every Sunday, Seattle Art Museum. Free!

The Penthouse: Oscar Peterson trio nightly. Jam session, 3-7 p.m. Saturday. No cover charge. First and Cherry.

Protest a Go Go

Patrick MacDonald

"The dignity of truth is lost with much protesting."
—Ben Jonson

A curious coterie of singing protesters riled a youthful, fidgety audience Friday night at the impressively titled World's First Folk Rock and All Cause Protest Music Festival at the Seattle Center Arena.

The show, an enterprise of KJR disc jockeys Pat O'Day and Dick Curtis, featured Barry McGuire, whose "Eve of Destruction" was the first big protest record; song writer and singer P. F. Sloan; the Grass Roots Singers; S.U.'s Gil Bateman; Glen Campbell with his pacifist and popular "Universal Soldier," and a rock 'n' roll group which calls itself the Gas Company.

THE EVENING began with the young dissenters who came to see the show parading into the arena with signs that read "End the War in Viet Nam," "Take LSD and Be," "Walt Saves," "Ignore This Sign" and the like.

The audience, which filled only a little over a third of the huge hall, appeared eager to hear The Truth as dispensed by the soothsayers of the hit lists. They didn't get it.

The evening turned out to be nothing more than a rock 'n' roll show—bad rock 'n' roll at that. Save for P. F. Sloan, a kind of poor man's Bob Dylan, none of the artists on the program sang any protest song other than the one for which he was popular. About 90 per cent of the program was blaring, unintelligible rock—not what the people came to hear.

I CONSIDER the current popularity of protest songs a good sign because it shows that this generation cares very deeply about the problems of war, racial tension, juvenile delinquency, freedom and "the Bomb."

Certainly no one pretends that a two- or three-minute song is going to give all the answers, but at least it can cause some interest to be stirred and can raise questions in the minds of listeners.

Unfortunately, the mood at the festival was not conducive to any serious thought. Someone who wears his hair down to his shoulders, knee-high black boots, a wide-striped surfer shirt, blue pants and a rabbit's foot around his neck, as McGuire did, cannot be taken too seriously.

The valid intentions of the songs of protest were debased by the crass commercialism and Shindig singing style of McGuire and crew.

Those who paid good money for a protest show didn't expect a third-rate rock 'n' roll concert.

And that is something worth protesting.

Marksman Wanted For Rifle League

Rifle teams may now be formed to compete in S.U.'s rifle league. The league, sponsored by the military science department, will consist of as many five-member teams as are formed.

Anyone attending S.U. may be on a team. Last year three of the 17 teams in the league were made up of girls from the dormitories.

THIS YEAR the ROTC staff hope for increased interest in the program. Team entries should be turned into either Mike Davis or MSgt. Joseph Gardiner.

In the competition, a five-member team, composed of four regulars and an alternate, goes to the firing line. All five scores are taken and the best four are tabulated using the handicaps of each rifleman.

Handicaps, figured weekly after the first week, will be 75 per cent of the difference between the shooter's season average and 90.

Each year the rifle league organizes its 10 top marksmen—five men and five women—into a team for intercollegiate competition.

S.U. SENDS this team to the Pacific Northwest Intercollegiate Sectional Small Bore Rifle Match at Oregon State University every year. The intercollegiate team also participates in the National ROTC Indoor Small Bore Rifle Match. This match is held on each team's own range, officiated by intercollegiate match referees.

The scores of the ROTC match are compared nationally. Last year S.U. ranked eleventh out of the 83 competing teams of the intercollegiate league.

Twins Two Up:

L.A. Dodgers Lose 5-1

Hitting has been proven to be the important factor in the first two games of the 1965 World Series. In the two contests played, the Minnesota Twins have white-washed two Los Angeles Dodger pitchers.

In yesterday's game it took the Twins six innings before they sent Dodger ace Sandy Koufax to the showers. The Twins' hitters scored two runs in the sixth, one in the seventh and two more in the eighth to wrap up the second game of the series, 5-1.

DODGER sluggers were able to get seven hits and one run off Jim Cott, game winner. The Twins blasted three Los Angeles pitchers for nine hits and five runs.

Wednesday, the indignant Twins scored 23-game winner Don Drysdale off the mound with six runs in the third inning. Jim (Mudcat) Grant held the Dodgers to only one hit in the first four frames.

THE TWO teams now travel to Los Angeles to continue the series with a game Saturday.

To this point in the series, the Minnesota batters have been able to tee-off on the strong Dodger pitching corps. Only time will tell if the powerful Twin hitting will keep on off-setting the superb pitching of the Los Angelinos.

Trillos, Onions Score Two-game Victories

The intramural volleyball season, has gotten into full swing with eight games played in the last week.

Tuesday night the Chieftain Riflers lost to the Rent-a-Cops, 15-10, 15-10. The Oregons downed the Nads 15-3, 12-15, 15-18. The Cellar had too much "suds" and were beaten by the White Goats 15-13, 2-15, 15-8. The Lagnafs had a clean sweep, beating the Fighting Irish 15-4, 16-14.

Wednesday, the Trillos and the Red Onions clobbered their foes in two straight matches. The Trillos downed the Parasites 15-3 and 15-4.

The Onions had it a little rougher beating the Dogs. The Dogs barked out 12 points in both contests, but the Onions beat them to 15 points for game.

In the other two contests the Chamber defeated the Les Singes 15-6, 2-15, and 15-5. The Assassins killed the Whats 7-15, 15-4, and 15-6.
